Deep inside the mountains, there was a mysterious forest. The trees were tall and thick, and sunlight barely touched the ground. Birds of many colors lived there, singing sweet songs all day long. One morning, a young boy named Arjun decided to explore the forest. He packed some food, water, and a notebook to record what he would see. As he walked deeper, he saw a sparkling stream and colorful flowers he had never seen before. Suddenly, he heard a rustle in the bushes. Arjun froze, thinking it might be a wild animal. To his surprise, a small, friendly deer stepped out and looked at him with curious eyes. Arjun realized that the forest was full of life and wonders waiting to be discovered.
